It is very hard for people who cannot see or hear. It is even more difficult to enjoy a full life if you are both blind and deaf. But that is what happened to an American woman called Helen Keller. Helen lived a busy life, wrote many books and travelled to many places. Helen could not see or hear anything because of an illness she had as a baby.

When she was seven, her parents asked Anne Sullivan to help their child. Anne only used touch to teach her to communicate with her hands. Helen then learnt how to read using Braille and even learned several languages. When she was twenty, Helen went to the university. While she was there, she wrote the first of her many books, called "The story of my life". Two films were made about her life and she won many awards for her work.
